Dear SHAPE Community and Graduates of Clairvoyant Programs, AHA!, and the Psychic Tools and Life Mastery Practices Course,

First, a Most Joyous and Blessed Thanksgiving & Christmas Holy Days to each and every one of you! I am truly grateful for our incredible community of kindred, loving souls, committed to exploring, discovering, healing, and growing spiritually. May our adventure together continue to foster us living the miracle of our soul lives each and every day. May we continue on our caravan of mirth and miracles with the requisite courage, compassion, and cooperation. May our Love of God and wisdom borne of our own experience be our guides always. I am blessed to live in the celebration of life.

So it is that as the end of the calendar year draws to its conclusion, we naturally and intuitively turn our attention more inwardly and reflect upon our experiences throughout this year and what our next steps are to be for the coming year. It is, however, also a time of celebrating life in all of its wondrous forms given to us, so that we may each learn and grow into the fullness of who we are. In truth, without celebrating our life, how can we possibly review what we've learned and assess where we are to go next? Without the joyousness of celebration, our powers to review and assess dim and narrow into a myopic view of how we have lived our life. We cannot truly appreciate our life, if we only see a small fraction of what we've lived thus far.

That is one of the many reasons we set aside this weekend at the end of each year - so that we can gather together as a community in communication and camaraderie to celebrate together the passing year as well as the start of the coming one. Joy shines a brilliant light in and upon this world and today the world needs more light in it than ever. The greater the challenges that so many people in the world are struggling with, the more important shining the light becomes to all of us. Commiseration and sympathy dim whatever light is shining. Celebrating compassion and wisdom in this world joyously go far in uplifting it from the gravity of darkness. It's time to levitate in this world with levity and light.

This year, we've dedicated our SHAPE Christmas Celebration Weekend Intensive to Limitless Loving: Celebrating The Creativity & Power of the Christ in the World. I love the Christmas story of Joseph and Mary pregnant with Jesus finding no vacancies at the inns along their path as they travel to the official census-taking. It's a perfect reflection of the collective consciousness that is the world denying space in it for divinity or spirit. Rather than the innkeepers jumping up and doing whatever they can to make extra space for the incarnation of spirit here in this world, they went out of their way to deny lodging to those whose purpose was to birth the Christ Consciousness in the world.

You know that things haven't changed that much in the hospitality business - today, most hotels reserve at least an extra room for those unexpected VIP guests - celebrities, the politically connected, the super-wealthy. I'm sure many of those innkeepers had a room stashed away. But, the beauty of this story is that Joseph and Mary and the baby being - along with the aid of archangels and angels and masters of light and wisdom - created a space, a sanctuary, in which Mary could birth more of the Light of Divinity into this world. If you are ever in doubt about your ability to fulfill your purpose for being here, remember this story and remind yourself that you are fully capable of living the miracle of spirit. You just have to find your space to be you no matter the conditions in the world and how those immersed in pain and suffering may react to you.

Of course, limitlessness means that there are no beginnings or endings. Limitless loving comes from choosing to love anyway, regardless of the condition of your current experience. When you come to a seeming limit to your capacity to love, that's when you know it's your opportunity to transcend those old imagined limits and imagine anew. And to love anything or anyone beyond a prior limit requires us to love ourselves enough to deserve not extending our own suffering a moment longer. Again, can we actually love beyond our perceived limits of loving, without joyous celebration? Have you ever tried to love someone or something that you were less-than-enthusiastic - or at least happy - about? Not likely. Let's see, I'm trying to love this good-for-nothing jerk.....hahahaha.....If, however, we choose to celebrate the power and creativity of the Christ Consciousness and Energy in this world, then, perhaps, we would be up for loving and forgiving beyond our prior perceived limits.

If you'd like to even consider making that choice, come and celebrate with us on the weekend of December 15th - 16th at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Burlingame. We'll explore the creativity and power that are inherent in the Christ Consciousness that is the creative fulfillment of all of life. We'll also continue with raising our havingness for and ownership of that creative power within us. Remember, living the miracle everyday begins with the relinquishing of our old imagined limits (blowing pictures/forgiveness/deprogramming) and imagining beyond them (ownership and expression of limitless creative power).

As always, for those of you who completed the whole 2018 SHAPE Clairvoyant and Trancemediumship Mastery Course - Limitless Love: Your Power and Creativity, your graduation and the initiation for every participant will both be integrated into the weekend intensive and celebration. We'll revisit more deeply the major initiation steps, while we're at it as well and look at your progress along your Clairvoyant Path of the Christ. We'll have more deprogramming of the limits on your havingness and look at some of your next steps in the coming year. Of course, we'll have the merry-making of singing Christmas carols, so we invite the musicians amongst you to bring your instruments to join in (even if it's just a pickle percussive). And, of course, we'll have our traditional gift-exchange, so use your creativity and see what you'd like to give to a yet-to-be revealed SHAPEmate. Yes, it's never too early to celebrate the Holy Days of Celebrating Spirit, the Christ, and Miracles.

Looking with enthusiasm and joy to getting together with you all!

With gratitude, love, and laughter,^[1]_{SEP}

Michael
