Know Yourself to Live the Life You Love:

Using Your Intuition & Clairvoyance to Realize Your Purpose

Sunday, February 11 10 AM - 5 PM

"Hey, Tamura!" My teacher, Lewis, interjected in the middle of a conversation we were having about the Oakland A's or taxes or whatever we were talking about. He did that often in a manner not unlike a Zen Master wielding a mind-clearing koan.

"We all have a choice in how we wish to die, you know?" He continued. That hit me like a two-by-four right between my eyes. And, then, he finished me off with, "We can choose to die in pain and suffering or to die in love and at peace with ourselves." That was perhaps a couple of weeks before I turned twenty-one. At that moment, I made my decision that I wished to die in love and at peace with myself when it was my time to go. From that moment with that decision, I embarked upon the journey that I have been on ever since: To learn to live the miracle of the life of spirit, that life that is never defined by birth or death or any limitation in time or space, but only by the choices that we make.

Along the way, I've learned that if I chose to love the life I happened to be living at any given time, it always led me to live the life I would love living. To be able to love the life I was living, no matter what the conditions might be, I had to learn to see my way clearly. I had to look into and see the truth of the matter beyond what the world and my life appeared to be. I also learned that whenever I came to know myself more deeply, instead of believing what or who I thought I was, my life would always move in a way that it became more and more the life I envisioned living.

For our upcoming Seminar Weekend in the Greater Los Angeles Area, I thought it would be good to share with you what I have come to know so that you, too, can Love the Life You Live and Live the Life You Love. Saturday's all-day seminar will introduce you to simple, but powerful psychic tools that you can apply daily in your life to help you to love your life - and yourself - no matter what challenges you may be experiencing at the time. If you did that regularly, you'd be surprised that you would be much happier, no matter what. Of course, seeing your way clearly through your life is what we might call "applied clairvoyance". I'll definitely cover the topic of clairvoyance and applying your clairvoyant abilities in everyday life. Remember, everyone is already clairvoyant - it's just that many people aren't aware of that and don't know how to use it correctly. You'll also learn to look at your life and the situations, people, and conditions in it from perhaps a different perspective - the soul's perspective. It will transform your life - for the better. After all, the bottom line here is pain and suffering or love and peace - but, your choice.

In Sunday's seminar, you'll learn to use more of your intuition as well as clairvoyance to know yourself more deeply and see your way more clearly so that you can realize more of your soul purpose for being here. Without fulfilling our true purpose as immortal souls, we can't hope to find lasting happiness. I'll address that most-important, but often neglected, aspect of life in this seminar as well. It will be a joyful, fun, and transformative weekend of celebrating how to live more clairvoyantly and love more intuitively! It's time for this. You know it. So, come on over! We're looking forward to seeing you in Calabasas!
