Dear Friends and Awakening Souls,

Psychic abilities are those abilities that are innate to the soul and not the body. Yet, a soul would need a body to use those abilities here in this world. Mediumship is one of the fundamental psychic abilities that the soul uses to incarnate into this world and express itself as a creative being in a multitude of ways here. Without this all-important ability, none of us would be alive on earth. Without it, none of us would be able to exit this world, either.

Mediumship is an essential soul ability that impacts our lives in a countless number of ways everyday. Yet, so little is truly known about it. Most people rarely venture forth to learn how to correctly make use of it in their lives, as well as, in their spiritual development. In the mainstream of our society, about the only aspects of mediumship that is even talked about is that of a few gifted mediums being able to expertly communicate with the spirit of the deceased and provide verifiable evidence of an afterlife or accurately foretell the future. As valuable as those functions may be, mediumship encompasses so much more in our lives.

For example, for a woman to become pregnant, she must be able to access a basic part of her mediumship, in order that she may help the incarnating soul channel into and through a part of her body into its own. The downside to this aspect of her wonderful ability, however, is that someone else can run his or her energies through this same avenue in her and end up controlling her in a relationship - and she may not have a clue what is really happening to her. Another great example would be that of a medium who has had extensive training and gained a high level of mastery of mediumship being able to fully step out of his or her body and allow another advanced soul to communicate through that body for everyone's benefit. At the same time, a person with a good deal of potential mediumship ability without mastery could become prey for beings seeking an "open mic night" so they could channel through their selfish desires and agendas. This can give rise to the classic "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" syndrome in some unwitting mediumnistic individuals.

The mediumship ability also plays a major role in your creative self-expression as well. That is why those who develop their ability to creatively express themselves to a high degree often end up at the top in their field especially in the arts, entertainment, media, and big businesses. They are all using much more of their mediumship, than even many of the more capable people in the world. Yet, as you see happening everyday in the world, such people often crash and burn in some way, unable to manage their runaway mediumship, even while enjoying their tremendous successes.

Above and beyond all of that and more, mediumship is most important to your spiritual development. Here, as in all the other arenas of life, mediumship can be a two-edge sword. When you learn to use your mediumship ability correctly and manage it well in the world, it becomes your primary ally to help keep you on your path. On the other hand, when you remain unaware of it and neglect to at least gain a basic understanding and some mastery of your mediumship ability, it could become a major obstacle on your path. And, the more committed you are in your spiritual growth, the more important correctly developing your mediumship becomes.

So, for our final seminar weekend this year in Calabasas, in the Greater Los Angeles Area, we've decided to offer you two powerful all-day seminars to help you learn much more about your invaluable mediumship ability. We'll explore what the true nature, function, and purpose of mediumship are in your life. Come learn what you can do with it and how to use and manage it correctly. As you gain more working understanding and awareness of your mediumship, you can further yourself enormously in your creative life, in having healthier relationships, and on your spiritual path.

On top of all of that, in Saturday's seminar, Your Mediumship & Your Spiritual Path, you'll also learn valuable Psychic Tools for Discerning Your Own Truth to help you gain more certainty in your own truth, better use and manage your mediumship ability, and stay on course in your life. Then, on Sunday, in Meet Your Dream Team, we'll further explore your mediumship ability as you learn to communicate and work with Angels, Spirit Guides & Masters of Wisdom that are here with you to guide you along your life on earth and on your spiritual path. You'll learn many simple but powerful psychic tools to do all of that as well.

It'll be an amazing weekend! Come power-up your psychic life! It's time. Hope to see you in Calabasas.

With gratitude, love, and joyous celebration of life,

Michael
