Liebe Freunde und erwachende Seelen,

Oh, glorious Spring! Rebirth. New life. Time to awaken!

It's a great time to be alive. Without a doubt, it's also a time of major global and personal challenges. They are all important aspects of our spiritual experience of learning to master the human mind and body. As souls, each of us incarnates here on earth, time and again, until we each complete this evolutionary journey. Even so, the transformation that we are all collectively undergoing presently is extraordinary. There has never been a time like this in history. We are actively participating in the metamorphosis of our species from that of a body-based intellectual race into a fully spirit-centered intuitive one. To fulfill our destiny, we cannot afford to "hang on for our dear life" in fear - we must have the courage to let go and leap into the unknown with certainty in that which is limitless and never-changing. We must choose life and in choosing life, we choose to love.

But, what does it mean for us to be alive? Are we truly alive, just because we are breathing and we have a pulse? Can you imagine feeling alive, for instance, without experiencing joy? What is the difference for you between trudging through a pile of paperwork or a litany of complaints and doing something that deeply fulfills your soul? When we are joyous, everything comes alive for us. And, we need inspiration to experience joy.

Inspiration. It literally means, breathe into. Life is breathed into us, when we are inspired. Yet, what - or who - is it that breathes life into us?

What inspires you? In languages as divergent as Ancient Greek, Latin, Hebrew, Sanskrit, and Chinese, the word for breath can also mean spirit. Inspiration. Did all those who coined the word for breath, regardless of their culture, intuitively and collectively, know that what gave us breath and, therefore, life, was none other than Spirit?

Without somehow directly experiencing Spirit, we are not inspired. Uninspired, we do not experience joy or enthusiasm. Spring is Nature reminding us that life comes from within each and every one of us. Spring heralds the reincarnation of spirit into this world, inspiring all of nature to live to its fullest potential.

As Spring approached, we were so looking forward to our May teaching tour in Switzerland, but, as you all know, a pandemic has changed everyone's earlier plans around the world. Although due to mandates, we cannot travel to Switzerland at this time and have had to cancel two of the events, we will still offer both of what were originally to be our Zürich Friday evening workshop and Weekend Seminar online (and by phone) via Zoom! For that, we're ever grateful for the dedication and love of our hosts, Wolfgang and Marianne Jaeger of Forum and Buchhandlung im Licht.

For those two events, I am envisioning each of you reclaiming much more of the limitless abundance of joy that is within you in spirit - especially during these uncertain, but profoundly transformational and healing times.

We will begin with my 2-hour Friday Evening (May 22) Online Zoom workshop hosted by Forum and Buchhandlung im Licht, Live the Life You Love, Love the Life You Live: Psychic Guidance for Living the Miracle. This will be a wonderful introduction and preparation for our Online Zoom Weekend Seminar. You'll learn that the secret to lasting happiness is to be loving and that to live the kind of life that you would love to live, you first have to learn to love the life that you are already living. Easier said than done? Join us in this fun workshop and get started in the process of transforming your life to the miraculous one you are meant to live.

We'll continue our exploration, discovery, learning, healing, and growing with our in-depth teaching event, our special Zoom/Online Weekend Seminar (May 23 - 24), Reclaiming Your Abundance of Joy: Heal Your Loving Heart & See Your Way Clearly. In this Weekend Seminar, we'll explore the nature of joy and of living the truly joyous life of spirit. You'll learn to restore your heart to wholeness, along with your capacity to love. As you do so, you will discover how your innate soul ability to see your way clearly, or clairvoyance, relates to healing yourself back to Oneness. During this profound weekend, you will also gain many simple and practical, yet powerful psychic tools and daily spiritual practices to help you along your journey of awakening.

We're certain that this two-day Zoom seminar will help you enormously in being able to experience yourself more as the brilliant and limitless spirit that you are. Be sure to click on to the links in this letter to the descriptions and details for each of our two now online events.

One of the things to know ahead of time is that when you decide to join us for any or all of these events, many of you will begin to experience shifts in your energy and consciousness long before you arrive at the actual workshop or seminar. This is a good thing - you're already learning what I am teaching in spirit. In fact, some of you might even become aware when you first awaken in the morning that you may have done or learned something while you slept. Yes, I teach every night in spirit as many of you sleep. I have been doing that since I was growing up. We can get an enormous amount of learning, growing, and healing, done while our bodies are sleeping. So, please pay some attention when you first awaken and reflect upon what you might have done or learned while your body slept. Notice, too, the changes that you may be going through and care for yourself lovingly. I know we will have a wonderful time together via Zoom in May. Both Raphaele and I are so looking forward to seeing all of you!

May the light of truth shine evermore brightly upon your every step and divine love guide your every choice.

With gratitude, love, celebration, and joyous laughter,

Michael
